Young women feel vulnerable and face different forms of sexual harassment in public spaces in and around Delhi University.

PROBLEM

- Sensitization of stakeholders and beneficiaries through training and meetings
- Public campaigns to raise awareness about women’s rights to a life free of violence and to provide safety advice through community radio, public events, info-desks at college fests, publications and magazine articles, including dissemination of over 1000 helpline booklets, badges and leaflets on women’s safety and an inclusive campus
- Engagement with senior DU management and other stakeholders to effect strategic policy change

ACTIVITIES

- Students and faculty are more informed and aware of the problem of sexual harassment and strategies to deal with it
- Formation of a core group of partners, including students, faculty, marginalized student groups (disabled, regional, international), administration, student unions, residents, etc
- Other city stakeholders, such as MCD, Police, Apex Committee on SH, Women Development Cell, have a better understanding of sexual harassment and are more committed to take action to end it
- General public in and around DU are more informed about the issue and strategies to deal with it
- Paying Guest accommodation safety standards introduced to improve women students’ accommodation
- Commitment of Police and MCD officials to reduce sexual harassment enhanced

OUTPUT

- Core group takes sustained action to create a safer and more inclusive campus
- Men are more informed about the issue and proactive in creating a safe environment for women
- Women are more aware of sexual harassment and take steps to respond to it (i.e. contacting WDC at their colleges or police helpdesks helpline to make a complaint)
- Police and MCD takes sustained action to create a safer and more inclusive campus- i.e. installing helpdesk managed by women police officers, regular and rigorous surveillance of the area, and better infrastructure with regular maintenance at the university campus
- CASH and Apex Committees take prompt and gender sensitive action on cases of sexual

OUTCOME

- Incidences of sexual harassment in and around DU are reduced and women feel the area is a safe and inclusive space
