Part 2 - Principles and Practices of customary tenure.

SECTION 2:
Customary land in Teso region is vested in the respective clans of Teso to hold and manage in trust for the people of Teso.

a) Customary land in Teso is not for sale by any individual or head of family entrusted with the management of land for the benefit of members of family and future generation.
b) Land can only be sold if it is for “good reason” and with the permission of the majority of all the family members, whether present or absent, permission of the clan committee and consent of the wife or wives.
c) The clan committee must not allow the sale of land for “bad reasons”.
d) The land where the head of family is an orphaned minor must not be sold without the permission of the parish clan committee.
e) Consent will be assumed not to have been given if any of the wife or wives with rights to the land refuses to grant consent and if the majority of the adult children refuse to grant consent.
f) Consent will be assumed not to have been given if the majority of the members attending the parish clan committee meeting vote against the sale of land of an orphaned minor.

Part 3 - Rights to land.

SECTION 3:

All persons born to or married into a family except children born to a married female member of a family have rights to customary land.

Right of heads of families.
a) Heads of families hold land in trust for the family and have the rights to allocate land to members of their family and to protect land rights of women and children from trespassers.

Rights of an heir.
b) All heirs to family land have the rights and responsibilities of heads of families over their own allocated land, over the land of the previous deceased head of family, and over land left unallocated in the pool for the use of the whole family.

Rights of unmarried boys and girls.
c) All children, boys and girls born to a family have the right to inherit their fathers land and right to use land allocated them.
d) Children born in marriage to a daughter married in another clan have no right to inherit land but maybe allocated land to use.
e) Children born by daughters out of marriage have full rights to land same as children born in the family, unless their biological fathers pay penalty or Ekingol.
f) All children have the right to agree or refuse to the sale of land managed by heads of their families.
g) Daughters have full rights to use land same as boys until they marry. They retain the right to give consent should the head of the family want to sell the land.
h) Divorced daughters of a family who return to their fathers’ homes have full rights, the same as other male and female children. Their children may have the use of land but not own it.
i) On marrying, all boys become heads of their families with the right to allocate land to their families, protect women and children’s land rights and to protect land from trespassers.
j) Adult boys and adult girls who do not marry remain with the right only to use land within the family unless they have children in which case they then become heads of their families.

Rights of widows
k) A widow has the right to choose whether or not to take a relative of her deceased husband as her partner (or to be inherited) or to leave the family and return to her father’s home.
l) All widows whether living alone or with a male partner from within the clan become heads of their families upon the death of their husbands with full rights to manage her land and the land of her children who are minors.
m) The clan of the deceased husband shall appoint a man to protect the land rights of a widow from trespassers but the land rights of the widow shall not pass onto the officer appointed to protect the widow.
n) A widow who remarries into another clan loses her right as head of family in the family of her deceased husband and this right passes to the heir of the family as appointed by the clan. This right may be regained on return.

b) The head of the family should then give “important information” to the chairperson of the village clan committee concerning the sale of the land.
c) The chairperson of the village clan committee will convene a meeting of all the members of the family household wanting to sell land to find out if the members consent to the sale. The consent, if agreed should be in writing and signed by all the members of the family household, indicating whether they agree or disagree with the sales, witnessed by the chairperson of the village clan committee.
and another member of the committee.

(18) Process of marking boundary for land to be sold.

a) The members of the family wanting to sell land and members of the village clan committees will inform other clan members of the land being sold and if none of them is able or interested to purchase it, or is offering a price below the market price, the head of family selling land may then advertise to sell land outside the clan.

b) The buyer, seller, all neighbours to the land to be sold, chairperson of the Village Clan Committee and LC1 of the area where the land is situated, must then visit the land to be sold and verify and agree on boundaries and plant Ejumula/Eligoi tree or any other approved boundary mark on the boundaries.

c) The LC1 must cause to be drawn a sketch site of the land to be sold with details on measurements, campus direction, names of neighbours, description of any visible land marks.

d) The site sketch must be signed by the buyer, seller, LC1, neighbours, agreed witnesses and chairperson of the Village clan committee.

(19) Drawing Sales Agreement and sketch sites.

a) LC1 must then draft a sales agreement using, as a guideline, the format provided for by the Land Act 2002 regulations, as amended and must include the family consent letter and the wives consent clause as integral parts of the sales agreement.

b) After payment of all of the agreed purchase price of the land by the buyer to the seller, the sales agreement must be signed by the buyer, seller, the wife or wives of the seller (if any) and witnessed by the LC1 and the chairperson of the Village clan committee or the vice chairperson.

c) The LC1 must ensure that 5 copies of the signed sales agreement and signed site sketch of the land sold are made and a copy each given to the seller, chairperson of the Village clan committee, the recorder, ICU Council, a copy kept on the LC1 chairperson’s file and the original copy to the buyer.

(20) Referral.

Any person aggrieved by the decision of a clan committee at a lower level may refer the matter for consideration to a clan committee at a higher level. Referrals will lie from village clan committee to parish clan committee, from parish clan committee to sub county clan committee; from sub county clan committee to district clan committee and finally from district clan committee to ICU council.

(21) Penalties.

a) Any sale of land carried out without a written consent as required by these Principles and Practices is null and void.

b) Anyone who sells land without written consent from the family members, wives, and Village clan committee must return the purchase price of land given to him or her to the seller. The burden of proof of getting consent is on the seller. In this case, the village clan committee should assist the buyer to recover his money from the seller.

c) The Village clan committee should repossess land that is purportedly sold without consent from the buyer and return this to the family from which it is purported to have been bought.

d) Any person who sells land without the consent of the village clan Committee, family member and wives is liable to pay costs incurred by all parties as determined by the Village Clan Committee or committee of referral.

e) Anyone who cuts Ejumula/Eligoi or approved bo~ndary tree commits an offence and is punishable under the Penal Code of Uganda.

PART 6 - REGULATIONS

(21). Regulations

1) Iteso Cultural Union will be responsible for the implementation of these Principles and Practices.

2) Without prejudice to the general effect of sub section (1) and within the laws of Uganda, ICU may:
a) Fix fees to be charged for the preparation of any documents for or in connection with any disposition of dealing in land;
b) Fix charges to be made by the clan committees in respect of their function under these Principles and Practices.
